

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Notes on contributors	7
Foreword by Karolina Nowak and Krzysztof Nowak-Posadzy	11
PART I. METHODOLOGICAL AND THEORETICAL PROBLEMS
Jarosław Boruszewski, Krzysztof Nowak-Posadzy, Methodology through a cultural lens. The Poznań Approach to Philosophy of Humanities Against Alternative Meta-Methodological Orientations	15
Sławomir Leciejewski, Computer as a Tool for Modern Experimental Research (Large Hadron Collider Example)	39
Mariusz Szynekiewicz, Three Types of Reductionism — Richard Dawkins	53
Michał Litwiński, Income Inequalities in Theory of Economics	71
PART II. SOCIAL AND POLITICAL ISSUES
Włodzimierz Kaczocho, Social Philosophy — the Achievement of Theoretical-Cognitive — Practical Applications	89
Karolina Nowak, Is Previdistic Thinking Worthwhile? Prediction and Prognosis in Social Economics	101
Piotr Lis, Provident Thinking in Housing Policy	113
Katarzyna Suszyńska, Zuzanna Rataj, The Democratization of Social Housing Management. Case Study: Poznań, Poland	127
Halina Zboroń, Civil Activity in Contemporary Democratic Societies	145
PART III. THE PROBLEMS OF POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC
Mariusz Baranowski, Basic Income. Radical Reform of European Welfare State Models or Utopian Fantasy?	161
Piotr Cichocki, The Refugee Crisis as a Lens which Focuses the Deficits of European Integration	183
Barbara Pogonowska, Corporations — One of the Actors of Global Ethics' Construction	203
Adam Dzikowski, Is This the End of Organisational History? Post-humanism and the Evolution of Organisational Structures	213