

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Notes on Contributors	7
Michał Rydlewski, Theory as the Involved Attitude or the Process of Banality in Texts on Humanities	11
Ewa Solska, The Concept of Historia magistra vitae in the Study on History and Historical Discourse	39
Konrad Kośnik, Internet Historical Narrations and the Slavic Identity of Poles. Theoretical Prolegomena	57
Arleta Chojniak, Relation between Psychology and Humanities — the Conceptions of Florian Znaniecki and Jerzy Kmita	69
Dorota Angutek, Para-Scientific Interpretations of the Heideggerian Space Category by a Humanistic Geographer Yi-Fu Tuan and a Semiotician Vladimir Toporov	85
Anna Maciąg, The Roots and Forming of the German Nationalism Ideology — Part 1: from 1740 (Prussia under Frederick the Great) to 1815 (Congress of Vienna)	103
Jolanta Kolbuszewska, The Re-Establishment of the Polish State and the Equality of Women in Science	119
Katarzyna Klimasz, Przemysław J. Tomasik, The Development of Laboratory Diagnostics in the Polish Academic Centres to 1939. Part II. Interwar Period	135
Przemysław Adamczewski, Several documents on German and Georgian cooperation during the interwar period and World War II are kept in the Polish archives in London — Part I	155
Piotr Krajewski, History and the Polish Identity According to Andrzej Panufnik's Compositions. Music as a "Reflection" on the World	173
Błażej Popławski, Rafał Smoleń, "Museum of Africa" as a Room for Legitimizing the Colonial and Post-Colonial Power	189